PDF [144p.] at: <http://bit.ly/ihY48Z>

Intended as a reference to the state of eHealth development in Member States, this unique publication presents data on the 114 WHO Member States that participated in the 2009 global survey on eHealth. Individual country profiles feature 50 key indicators in eHealth foundation actions as well as specific eHealth applications. ...'

The objectives of the country profiles are to:

- describe the current status of the use of ICT for health in Member States; and
- provide information concerning the progress of eHealth applications in these countries.
